

HDMI Cable On-Package Verification

But Shopping Online for HDMI Cables Can Be Confusing

Resellers use various terms for features and capabilities when promoting HDMI Cables on websites and online marketplaces

Many resellers try to increase search results by posting a confusing jumble of features, specs and other manufacturers' model names

Official HDMI Cable Name designations may be missing or mis-stated

Media may recommend cables based on receiving affiliate payments

Worst of all – some products are counterfeits

Solution – Online Verification Prior to Purchase

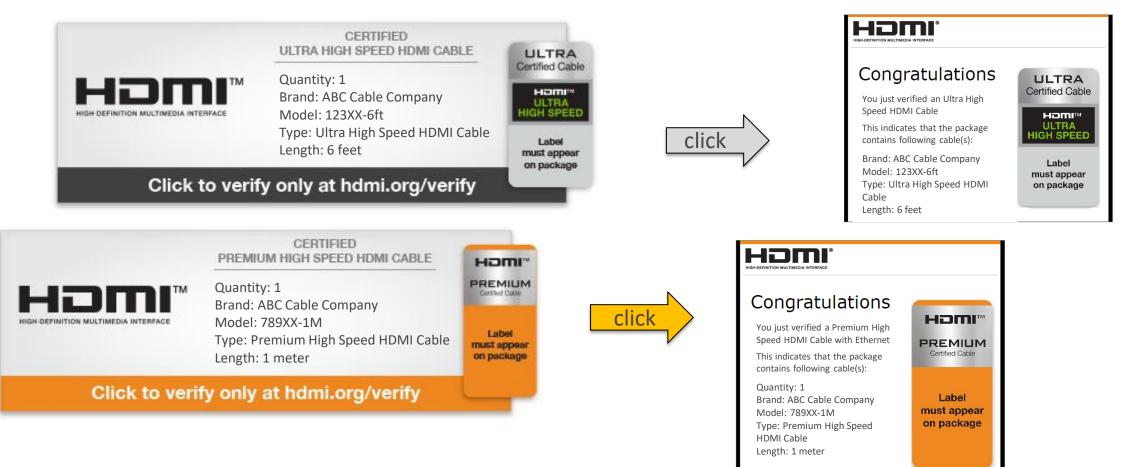

- Website-based HDMI Verification Banners will be available to HDMI Adopters and Resellers
- New program enables consumers to verify certification of HDMI Cables during online shopping
- "Click or Scan" banners connect to HDMI LA for verification of HDMI Adopter status, cable certification status, brand name, model number and cable length
- HDMI LA controls banner distribution to adopters and the click or scan results are generated from HDMI LA servers

Consumers and resellers will have two levels of verification

Two Types of Verification Banners

Embedded Banners (Click) are provided to HDMI Adopters with certified cables as web code they embed in their websites or distribute to their authorized cable resellers for their websites. The banner originates from HDMI LA servers and is dynamically generated each time a web page is displayed. Consumers just click the banner to go to the verification landing page on HDMI LA servers.

But not all websites allow embedded code such as marketplaces like Amazon and Alibaba and adopters may also opt for QR code-based image file banners

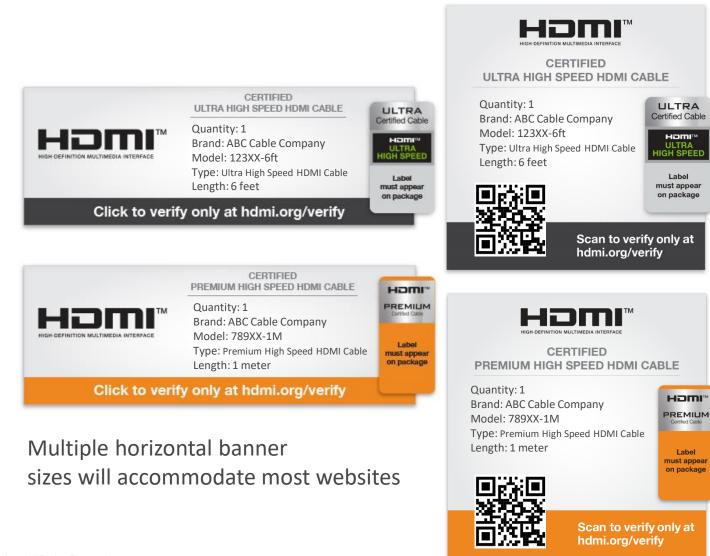

QR Code Banners (Scan) are provided to HDMI Adopters with certified cables as an image file they post on their websites or distribute to their authorized cable resellers for their websites. Consumers just scan the banner with a standard mobile phone code reader to go to the verification landing page on HDMI LA servers.

Verification Banners In Several Sizes

Different sizes of Verification Banners will be available for HDMI Adopters based on the most popular banner sizes

Most marketplaces like Amazon and Alibaba use square formats

Benefits to Manufacturers and Resellers

- Increased credibility: Verification Banners can help HDMI Adopters and Resellers establish credibility with their customers by demonstrating that their products have been tested and certified to comply to the HDMI Specification. This can help build trust and confidence in the products and the company.
- 2. Improved customer satisfaction: Customers may be more likely to purchase products from HDMI Adopters and Resellers when a cable they are shopping for is officially certified, as they will feel more confident that the products are of high quality and meet performance requirements.
- 3. Enhanced marketing efforts: Verification Banners can be used as a marketing tool to differentiate HDMI Adopters' and Resellers' products from competitors. By highlighting the fact that products are certified and can be personably verified at the time of purchase, HDMI Adopters and Resellers can attract more customers and increase sales.
- 4. Compliance with industry terms and conditions: HDMI Adopters and Resellers are required to be in compliance with HDMI Specifications and Trademarks usage, and usually have industry terms and conditions they must adhere to in order to sell their products. Verification Banners can help demonstrate compliance with these requirements, which can be important for maintaining a good reputation and avoiding legal issues and vendor chargebacks.
- 5. Improved search rankings: Verification Banners may be recognized by search engines as a sign of credibility and trustworthiness, which can potentially improve the search rankings of HDMI Adopters' and Resellers' websites. This can make it easier for customers to find their products and increase traffic to their website.

Proof-of-Concept Examples

"We've been testing the Verification Banners on our site and it's exciting that consumers, and especially our resellers, can check for themselves that our HDMI Cables are licensed and certified. This is a great way to counter all the misleading postings we compete against."

Deena Ghazarian, Founder and CEO, Austere

"So much of our sales is online this is a very effective method to validate the certification of cables before someone buys the product. Moving the verification earlier than checking the label on the package will help differentiate us from other manufacturers that make unsubstantiated claims about their cables" – James Li, CEO of Zeskit
